

Abul Barkat (born 1954) is a Bangladeshi economist and a professor in the Department of Economics, University of Dhaka. In addition to his teaching, from 2009 to 2014 he was the former Chairman of Janata Bank Ltd. He is the Present elected president of Bangladesh Economic Association.

In 1982 Barkat started his professional career by joining the Department of Economics, Dhaka University. He is the immediate past chairman of the same department. He was the Chairman of Janata Bank Limited from 2009 to 2014. He is the Chief Adviser of most reputed private sector research organization.^[4] Barkat was elected president of the Bangladesh Economic Association at the end of 2017.

Barkat already published 600 research publications. He is credited with 24 research book, 119 journal articles with chapters in research books, 221 research monograph, 232 Research paper present national & International conference. In addition, he has delivered at least 10 public lectures and memorial lectures on national and international issues.