

"Regional Diversity and Local Development in the New Member States ", edited by Paul Blokker and Bruno Dallago, Palgrave-MacMillan, New York 2009, pp. 320.

Contents

Introduction: Regional Diversity and Local Development in the New Member States; P. Blokker & B. Dallago

PART I: REGIONAL DIVERSITY IN CENTRAL AND EASTERN EUROPE

Time Horizon and Institutional Underpinnings of Local Development; A. Surdej

Regional Development in Central and Eastern Europe; G. Gorzelak

Local Development in European Union Perspective: Cohesion and Regional Policies in Central and Eastern Europe; C. Guglielmetti

Poland's Great Transformation and the Lessons to be Learnt; G. W. Kolodko

Regional Labour Market Developments in Transition; P. Huber

Regional Development Effects of Foreign Direct Investment in Central and Eastern Europe; P. Pavlinek

PART II: EUROPEAN INTEGRATION, REGIONAL DISPARITIES, AND DEVELOPMENTAL STRATEGIES IN NEW AND PROSPECTIVE MEMBER STATES

Local Development and Local Policy in Hungary - Challenges and Perspectives in Changing Circumstances; É. Ruttkay

Local Government in the Process of Transformation; A. Gasiór-Niemiec

Social Benefits and Administrative Strains: the Golden Burden of EU Funds at the Subnational Level in Romania; S. Ionita

Multiple Shocks and Changes in the Development Gradient of Croatia's Regions?; I. Bićanić