

Grzegorz W. Kolodko

TRUTH, ERRORS, AND LIES
POLITICS AND ECONOMICS IN A VOLATILE WORLD

Contents

The Navigator

ix

chapter one

The World, Words, and Meaning:
Where Truth, Errors, and Lies in Economics and Politics Come from and What to Do to Make Truth Come First

1

chapter two

How Things Happen:
Economic Processes—What Science, Policy, and Happenstance Have to Do with Them and Who Set It Up This Way

26

chapter three

A Brief History of the World and What We Can Learn from It:
Why Some Countries Are Wealthy and Others Poor and Whether It Must Always Be So

40

chapter four

Globalization—and Then What?
Where Globalization Originated and How to Come Out Ahead in the Era of Worldwide Interdependence

78

chapter five

The World As It Is:

How People Are Coping in Various Corners of a Changing World 127

chapter six

The Withering of Neoliberalism and Its Tattered Legacy:
Why a Harmful Concept Rose to Temporary Ascendancy in Half the World and What to Do About It

204

chapter seven

What Development Is and What It Depends On:
Where Socioeconomic Development Comes from and How It Can Make Us Happy

256

chapter eight

Stagnation and Development—Institutions, Policy, and Culture:
On the Rules of the Economic Game, Deleterious and Progressive Policies, and the Significance of Culture in Development

293

chapter nine

The Coincidence Theory of Development and the New Pragmatism:
What Output Growth and Economic Development Depend On and How to Make Them Better

319

chapter ten

The Uncertain Future:
What Awaits Us in the Near and Distant Future and What Say We Have in It

338

A Letter

421

Notes

425

Index

441